DETECTIVES IN EVENING DRESS ON GUARD AT CROCKER WEDDING

Footmen in Livery and Guests in Prince Alberts Are in Reality Keen Sleuths

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16.—At high noon today the Church of St. Matthew in San Mateo, already famed for the brilliant society weddings that have been performed there, will be the scene of the marriage of California's richest heiress, Miss Jennie Adeline Crocker, to Malcolm Douglas Whitman of Brookline, Mass., former tennis champion of the nation.

Today's wedding will be one of the most gorgeous that has ever been solemnized in the United States. It is to be graced by the presence of only 300 guests, yet the preparations have involved the expenditure of an immense sum of money and the employment of the services of hundreds of workmen. The church has been transformed into a bower of orchids, and the pavilion where the wedding breakfast is to be held into a fairyland palace.

This is to be a wedding of wealth and the precautions have not been neglected. The police force of San Mateo, Burlingame and Hillsborough will be out in force at the church and at the country home of Miss Crocker, and even the police department of San Francisco has been drawn upon. There will be wedding presents representing an incalculable sum, and the jewels of these hidden to witness the event will amount in value to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Detectives as waiters.
Detectives in full afternoon dress, Prince Albert coats, gray trousers and high hats, will be in the throng, and there will be other detectives in the garb of waiters and in the uniform of doormen and footmen. Chief of Police White detailed six men yesterday for duty at the wedding, the squad being composed of Detective Sergeants Thomas Murphy, Joseph Redmond, Jeremiah Dinan and William Proll and Detectives Arthur McQuaide and Thomas Regan of the bureau of identification.

This detail was ordered yesterday at the request of City Marshal Conens of Hillsborough, who is secretary to Charles W. Clark of Hillsborough. The plain clothes men will be stationed at San Mateo, Hillsborough and at Miss Crocker's residence to guard the jewels of the guests, the wedding presents of the bride and the personal belongings of those who will attend the wedding. Moreover, they will keep a watchful eye out for pickpockets and thieves who might attempt to enter Miss Crocker's home during the ceremony.

Army of Workmen.

Yesterday the workmen employed to prepare the various pavilions and rooms to be used in connection with the wedding were engaged in putting the finishing touches on the colonnade, under which the wedding breakfast is to be served on the Crocker lawn.
This was not completed before night, and the gardeners and decorators were busy at their tasks long after dusk.

Unites Two Large Fortunes.

The wedding of Whitman and Miss Crocker unites two large fortunes, as Whitman is the heir to an immense estate in the East. Miss Crocker's fortune is conservatively estimated at $15,000,000, and she has been proclaimed the wealthiest heiress in the west. She is the granddaughter of Charles Crocker, one of the four Central Pacific railroad kings, of whom the other three were Stanford, Huntington and Hopkins. Her father was Colonel Charles Frederick Crocker.
The heirs to Colonel Fred Crocker's fortune were Miss Jennie Crocker, Templeton Crocker, and Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, who was formerly Miss Mary Crocker.

Mrs. Harrison met her death in an automobile accident on Long Island in 1905. In the distribution of Colonel Fred Crocker's estate Miss Jennie Crocker and Charles Templeton Crocker each received $5,000,000 outright, and this amount has practically doubled since in each case by judicious investment. In addition to this fortune, Miss Jennie Crocker inherited $2,000,000 from the estate of Mrs.
Jarrison, and a sum estimated at from $2,500,000 to $3,000,000 from her uncle, George Crocker, in 1909.—San Francisco Call.

QUEEN AS WITNESS IN ROYAL SCANDAL

Notorious Helga de la Brache Case Again Crops Up in Stockholm

PARIS, July 7.—A mild looking, notorious Helga de la Brache case may occupy the courts, and the queen dowager of Denmark is threatened with a summons to appear as a witness.

Periodically this case has attracted intense interest in Scandinavia, by reason of the king and other members of the Swedish royal family being brought into the scandal, but this time the probe is apparently to be pushed further.

Helga de la Brache, it is alleged, was the daughter of King Gustavus IV Adolphus and his queen, born in exile. The king was dethroned. It is further alleged that over $2,000,000 in a mysterious way was paid to the Swedish court on her behalf by the Russian court, and four letters proving her royal descent were handed at the same time to the Swedish court.
It is certain that King Carl XV allowed Helga de la Brache a pension, but this was afterwards withdrawn.
She has been dead many years, but the case has been fought with persistence by Mr. Johansson, formerly a member of the landsting. It has been before several courts. The royal archives have been searched and other queen dowager of Sweden and have recently filed long autograph statements in the case and altogether the proceedings have stirred society from top to bottom.

Now, following the death of the king of Denmark, Mr. Johansson considers the dowager queen of Denmark, who is the only child of King Carl XV of Sweden, has become an independent legal personality. So he has addressed a letter to King Gustav of Sweden in which he earnestly begs of the king to persuade the dowager queen of Denmark to furnish him (the king) with a complete statement of her knowledge of the case, or, failing this, again to refer the case to a Stockholm court before which the dowager queen of Denmark could be summoned as a witness.
